

I Care A Lot open call

Middle East Portable Discussion Jewelry Exhibition

www.icarealot.me 15th of May 2010

What is the Middle East? What is the source of our attraction to it? Is it just that it happens to be the most eventful place on earth? What is the nature of our commitment to effecting the future of the region? Do we really care about what goes on there? Do we really care about what goes on anywhere that is elsewhere? Do we care about the Middle East in a way similar to the way we care about how people look at us? Do we care about it the way we care about what people see in us?

Deadline for submission: 15th of March 2010
